

Editorial

In this issue, we present very interesting studies on polymer and polymer composites. Those papers attack interesting physical and mechanical characteristics in polymer and polymer processing. Especially, processing of polymer composites is of great interest in automotive industries thanks to recent trends of “light weighting”. Journal of polymer and biodegradable polymers will provide state-of-the-art contributions in those fields. We promise to continue our efforts for maintaining the Journal quality.

Sun Kyoung Kim, Professor, PhD
(Editor-in-Chief)